

20 June 2017, Stirling

Gender Equality Conference

This national conference explores how gender equality policy is impacting Scotland's educational and vocational landscape - and what else needs to be done to reduce gender barriers for men and women in key sectors including IT, health and care.

Speakers include:

Shirley-Anne Somerville, Minister for Further Education, Higher Education and Science

Eleanor Cannon, Chair, Scottish Golf

Michael Cross, Scottish Funding Council

Charlotte Govan, Improving Gender Balance Officer, Institute of Physics

Karen Murray, Head of National Training Programmes Development Skills, Skills Development Scotland

Talat Yaqoob, Equate, Digital Technologies Skills Group

Evelyn Walker, Chair of Gender Work Stream for Digital Skills (Digital Scotland)

David Bass and Kay Steven, Equality Challenge Unit

Find out more and book

- Learn about the aspirations for improving gender equality in Scotland
- Hear about the practice that is having an impact in education and work settings
- Explore how you can incorporate successful gender equality strategies and plans
- Discuss what more can be done to enhance gender equality opportunities
- Network and form new partnerships.

Please forward to any colleagues who might be interested in this event.

Cost: £75/£45

Find out more and book

We very much hope to welcome you to this important event.